

Love Locker

Two-line synopsis:

Rita and Mino are secretly in love. They have been planning their escape since they were children and now, on the day the railway closes and the last train leaves the town of Lete, they will manage to fulfill their love dream and be sweet run aways.

Full synopsis:

It's 1928, in Lete - a small and bizarre town situated in the deep South of a fictionary country, miles and miles away from the civilized world. Today, this God-forgotten place will close its doors to the world: the last train, leading the desperate to the capital, leaves without looking back. Rita and Mino belong to this barren fields but are secretly in love. They have been planning their escape since they were children and now, on the day the railway luggage room closes and the last train leaves town, they will manage to fulfill their love dream. They will be sweet run aways with the help of a mysterious suitcase.